Tariff NS 8002-A Item 3000! What Does It Mean To The Customer?

We talked about this same subject last month. GUESS WHAT!??? We are still receiving invoices for this $350.00 per car "Handling Charge"! If you're still not familiar with this Tariff, it states in Part A that the NS will assess a $350.00 "Handling Charge" for any empty round trip movement of privately owned tank railcars between the NS and any repair facility located on the NS line.

We all know that tank cars are almost always empty going into or out of a repair facility, so figure that every time they are sent in for repair or cleaning, there will be a $350.00 "Handling Charge". Since it's not a switch fee, it's not charged to the shipper, but to the car owner. I guess that's not so bad for the car owner, because he's just going to pass it on to the shipper.

From the poor shipper's viewpoint, this is terrible news! As if the cost of repairing railcars isn't high enough already! Lets not forget the repair facility itself. Sooner or later the shippers are going to go down the road to a repair/cleaning facility that's not on the NS. This could conceivably put some of the smaller shops out of business.

Why is it that none of the other Class 1's charge such a "Handling Fee"? Maybe if we work together and voice our opinions loud enough, the NS will hear us. You could always talk to your NS representative or contact:
