Up's and Downs

Being in the rail business as long as we have, you hear all types of words and sayings that describe the market for railcar needs or lack of. You also hear all the reasons why the demands change including declining market, oil prices, interest rates drop, etc. One of the buzz words we hear a lot, and have used ourselves, is cyclical. After hearing it so much, we decided to look it up and find out exactly what it meant. Here is what the Merriam-Webster Online dictionary says:

cy-cli-cal: 1 a: of, relating to, or being a cycle b: moving in cycles

After that we looked up cycles and here is the one that fits the best:

cy-cle: 2 a: a course or series of events or operations that recur regularly and usually lead back to the starting point

Basically what it is stating in laymans terms, is that events often repeat themselves. The industry right now is seeing a high demand for railcars and a low supply. Two years ago there were plenty of railcars for everyone, but not a high demand. Over the years we have seen this happen time and time again. TransMatrix, Inc. is constantly on the search for available equipment. If you are having a hard time locating the equipment you need in this portion of the cycle, let us know and we will help do the searching for you.
