CP SAYS, 'DON'T SHOP YOUR TANK CARS HERE'

For those considering sending your tank car to a shop on the Canadian Pacific, you should watch your step. Item 99, a CP exception to Item 190 (Mileage Equalization) of RIC 6007 allows them to hit you with a minimum $793.00 freight move if you did not either unload your car on the CP immediately prior to sending your car to the shop or send your car to be loaded on the CP immediately after the car leaves the shop. This applies even if you do load or unload on the CP. You must be sure the car moves on a direct route over the CP either between your unload point and the shop or between the shop and your load point. Additionally, if one of the moves from or to the shop are over 200 miles they will hit you up for an additional $1.46 to $1.90 per mile, depending on the distance moved.

In other words, if you do not load or unload on the CP, DO NOT SHOP ON THE CP. Now that the CP has been expanding further into the U.S., this will need to be carefully considered. If you would like to voice your opposition to this excessive and confusing charge you may contact:
